

IN THE REALM OF SOCIETY.

The Past Week a Rather Eventful One.

SOME NOTABLE EVENTS.

ARRANGEMENTS MADE FOR THE COMING CHARITY BALL.

Parties Given by the Misses Nason, Will Smedley, Mrs. Richards and Others—The Odell Party—Movements of Society People—The Clubs.

There are several types of entertainers. The nervous hostess is one of the most common types. She it is who "hates to entertain," and entre nous whose guests hate to be entertained by her. From the time she begins to plan a social function till it is a thing of the past she is in a state of excitement bordering on frenzy. "Everything goes wrong" with this unhappy woman. Caterers, florists, servants, all seem to conspire against her. She says they are "poisoned," and indeed they are, by her own spite and selfishness and intolerance, for such ill is epidemic. When the acme of her anxiety is reached, and her guests arrive she is distraught. She tries to smile, but inwardly is burning with indignation at some impertinence of a sorely tried servant, or is lamenting some contumacious which she knows will make the affair a failure. When her guests leave with the indispensable murmur about a "delightful evening," she is dimly conscious that the evening has been anything but delightful and that her face betrays her social Sapphira. Miserable in the consciousness of failure, but imputing the blame to everybody, anybody but herself, she still refuses the advice of her husband to "stop worrying or stop entertaining."

Then there is the other type, less common, but not less annoying. The poor hostess. She overdoes her idea of the importance of the occasion, the importance of her experience, her social, and the other things which make up her personality. This is the woman who prates about her family, until her hearer is ready to faint, though this species of conceit is more easily condoned than others, especially when her vanity is exercised for her children, for who cannot pardon foolish motherly love? But who has not seen the woman who aspired to be a fine grande dame and ended by being ridiculous?

These two types of women are largely responsible for the oft repeated words "Society is a sham." But fortunately for society, fortunately for the world, there is another type of society woman. She is fond of society, but she is usually quite as fond of something else, for instance her husband, her children, her friends, her home, items which the mere society devotee often forgets to consider. This woman is a model entertainer. To her society events are of the nature of recreation. She never allows them to become more than occasional incidents in her life, hence there is a zest about them to her and she communicates her pleasure to her associates. There is a keen enjoyment in the preparation for a party as well as in the execution of it. It is a pleasure to assist her, and her servants catch the infection of her sunny spirit and work with a right good will. There is no friction because the hostess is so kind and so unselfishly glad to see her friends when they arrive and the hearty welcome in face and hand puts them in good humor with the world and each other. It is needless to say that her parties are genuinely "delightful affairs." She is very much surprised when she is mentioned as one of society's queens. She will never understand that her claim to that title lies in the sweet sincerity of her nature, hostile which all the artificial claims of her rivals are as naught.

The high five party given by the Misses Nason, the card party by Mr. Will Smedley, the tea by Mrs. F. S. Richards and daughters, and the dancing party by Mr. and Mrs. George Odell were the chief events of the past week. A Shakespeare club has been organized. The card clubs and various literary organizations have been active.

On Wednesday of this week the Misses Webber will give a party in honor of Miss Glass. Mrs. William Jennings and Mrs. Frank Jennings have issued nearly 600 invitations for a reception on Thursday, which will be of a semi-charitable nature. The grand ball on Friday evening bids fair to be the largest event of the season. The hop at St. Mark's school house tomorrow evening will be an event of interest to young society people.

Five hundred invitations have been issued for the grand ball to be given at the theatre Friday evening and in all probability it will be one of the largest and most successful affairs of the year. Spectators may share the pleasure of the occasion. The music will be furnished by the Weber-Parker orchestra, which includes the Christensen Bros.

The committee on arrangements, a very able one, is composed of Messrs. Harold M. Pitt, Paul Hammer, Jr., Heber M. Wells, Kenneth Kerr, Sharp Walker, E. S. Little, Will Ford, W. C. Conrad, Charles S. Burton, A. S. Campbell, Albert C. Morris and Charles S. Wells.

The details of the charity ball to be given at the Salt Lake theatre on the 18th inst., are arranged and the tickets will probably be on sale tomorrow. The following committees have been appointed:

Executive Committee—Mrs. M. C. Fox, Mrs. W. E. McCormick, Mrs. M. T. Hunt, Mrs. C. C. Goodwin, Mrs. G. T. Wallace, Mrs. J. C. Royce, Mrs. E. Wilkes, Mrs. R. Mackintosh, Mrs. George A. Lowe, Mrs. McLaine, Mrs. E. Daggett, Mrs. L. Jennings, Mrs. H. Young, Mrs. Webber, Mrs. J. E. Hamberger, Mrs. Egbert Roberts, Mrs. T. Carter, Mrs. W. Wright, Mrs. A. E. Ewing.

Reception Committee—Mrs. G. M. Downey, Mrs. C. C. Goodwin, Mrs. R. Mackintosh, Mrs. O. J. Salisbury, Mrs. O. F. Whitney.

Music—Mrs. George Y. Wallace, Mrs. T. J. Almy.

Printing Committee—Mrs. Royce, Mrs. A. E. Ewing, Mrs. Egbert Roberts, Mrs. James Hogle.

Supper Committee—Mrs. T. Carter, Mrs. E. Wilkes, Mrs. W. Wright, Mrs. Archer, Mrs. W. P. Lynn.

Floor Committee—Lieutenant W. Wright, Mr. Brewster, Mr. G. M. Downey, Mr. Gallacher, Mr. Sid Hooper, Mr. George Westervelt, Lieutenant J. Greg.

Ladies—First, Miss Blanche Kimball, handsome centre piece decorated with buttercups. Second, Miss Edith Shearman, yellow satin souvenir box, heart-shaped.

Gentlemen—First, W. B. Sprague, silver hat marker. Second, silver necktie clasp, Jack Rookledge.

The guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bidwell, Mr. and Mrs. Caspar Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Fox, Mrs. Richard Mackintosh, Misses Lillian Woodward, Minnie Kiesel, Margaret Park, Katherine Love, Ora Harkness, Lucile Gilmer, Grace Wallace, Grace Young, Lucile Young, Blanche Kimball, Kate Lawrence, Edith Shearman, Marion Rookledge, the Misses Conklin and Miss Cash of Los Angeles, Messrs. R. J. Glendinning, Will Reid, Jack Rookledge, W. B. Sprague, George Brastow, Grant Hampton, W. C. Fay, Graham Putnam, George Nye, Will Walker, Frank Zane, James Pollock, Messrs. Fred Kiesel, and H. W. Nason, of Ogden, and Dr. Meehan.

The card party given by Mr. Will Smedley on Thursday evening was one of the pleasantest events of the week. The rooms were handsomely decorated with chrysanthemums of various colors; the tally cards were very handsome and unique, decorated with designs in sepia. The score cards were also pretty and novel. Partners were given by means of cards containing parts of quotations, and when the young men found the missing words of their particular quotations they found their partners for the evening as well. Miss Cash won the prize for ladies, and Mr. George Lawrence carried off the honors among the gentlemen.

Designs in diamonds and beads were cleverly carried out in the refreshments.

The guests were Mrs. J. T. Donnellan, Misses Marie Alf, Emma McCormick, Clara Colton, Olive Donnellan, Margaret Park, Ella Thomson, Minnie Kiesel, Clara Bailey, Millie Glass, Lucine Hoge, Ethelyn Webber, Florence Roundy, Lucy Whitall, Miss Cash and Miss Glass of Los Angeles, Messrs. Danne, George Royce, Edwin Sharp, Bucholz, J. T. Donnellan, Sam Park, Charles Post, Sid Hooper, Rob Smith, Henry McCormick, Ben Smith, George Lawrence, George Westervelt.

The dancing party Friday evening, given by Mr. and Mrs. George Odell in honor of their daughter, Miss Louise, was one of the pleasantest of the fall parties. The two parlors and the dining room were cleared for dancing and Olson's orchestra was stationed in the hall. The rooms were tastefully decorated with smilax and La France and Marechal Neil roses. The guests were received by Mrs. Odell assisted by Miss Louise, and Misses Grant and Odell. The evening was spent in dancing excepting such time as was spent in social converse in the parlors. Refreshments, which were by the way elaborate and elegant.

The invited guests were Misses Ella Clark, Lucile Sears, Clara Clawson, Ruby Clawson, Ardell Cummings, Winnie Sprague, Genevieve Ellerbe, Edith Ellerbeck, Lou Groesbeck, Kate Twyer, Marguerite Richards, Bessie Wright, Eloise Sherman, Grace Jacobs, Anna May McMillan, Bertha Carter, Edna Remington, Addie Zane, Jessie Kees, Katie Williams, June Sadler, Phyllis Young, Jasmine Young, Clara Brooks, Ella Dreuhl, Bessie Glendinning, Sadie Grant, Susie Grant, Ida Walker, Allie Miller, Kate Geddes, Messrs. Roy Hampton, John Grant, Bert Lawrence, Charles Lawrence, Milton Miles, Hal Hempstead, Perry Sadler, Albert Taylor, Alma Taylor, Harry D. Taylor, Wayne Smith, Fred Goodwin, George Smith, Earl Cummings, Frank Kraft, Scott Wells, Walt Meeks, Chaucer Benedict, Albert Almy, Harry Fontaine, Stanley Price, Fred Odell, George Odell, Carl Price, Lyle Gilman, Walt Dreuhl, Malcolm Glendinning, Harley Jennings, Donna Smith, Millie Oglesby, Will Clark and Sam Porter.

A pleasant informal reception was given by Miss Maud May Babcock and Dr. Babcock at Social hall, Thursday evening, when the following guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burton, Mr. and Mrs. Heber Wells, Mrs. Rulon S. Wells, Mrs. Emily Grant, Mrs. John Groesbeck, Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Whitney, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Clawson, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Clawson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jennings, Mr. and Mrs. Horace G. Whitney, Mrs. Nettie V. Snell, Mr. and Mrs. George D. Epper, Mrs. Eva Davis, Miss May Taylor, Miss Allie Davis, Miss Lucy Van Cott, Miss Belle Salmon, and Mr. John Ross.

A party of friends spent Friday evening very pleasantly at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. M. Froiseth in celebration of the birthday of Mrs. Froiseth. Music by Miss Jennie Winston, Miss Lillian Thompson, and Mr. R. J. Thomas was the feature of the evening. Whist and high five were also enjoyed and delicious refreshments were served.

Among the guests were noticed Mrs. R. L. Winston, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Lawrence, Dr. and Mrs. F. M. Froiseth, Mrs. Hughes, Miss Winston, Miss Frye, Miss Lillian Thompson, Mr. Jacobs and Mr. Lindsay.

Mrs. F. S. Richards and daughters gave a tea to ten ladies yesterday afternoon in honor of Mrs. O. J. Salisbury and her charming niece, Miss Cash. A pleasant feature of the afternoon was the splendid rendition of several piano solos by Miss Celia Sharp.

Mrs. F. D. Richards and Mrs. J. T. Richards gave a tea on Friday in honor of Miss Millie Glass. Miss Glass spent her school life in this city and Friday's function was really a reunion of old school mates and was a joyous occasion. The guests were Misses Millie Glass, Ella Thomson, Clara Bailey, Lucine Hoge, Nellie Beattie, Marie Alf and Margaret Park.

The pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Pettigill was thrown open to the Circle of Strangers on last Wednesday evening and a number of invited guests and husbands of the members participated in the pleasure of the Circle for the first time.

The hostess and family were unremitting in attention and succeeded in making the evening one of memorable enjoyment.

There are surprises and surprises but the party planned for the celebration of Miss Sara Cohen's birthday on Friday evening was a genuine and cleverly managed surprise. The details were very skilfully managed by Miss Cohen's young lady friends. The evening was spent in music, dancing and cards.

The guests were Misses Edna Jacobs, Edna Cohn, Gertrude Cohen, Cecile Beiber, Jennie, Celia and Emma Oppenheimer, Emma Sachs, Rena Eisen, Annie Woolf, Rae Lichtenstein, Mrs. Elias Siegel, of Butte, Messrs. Frank Ranschoff, J. Hartman, Henry Kahn, Henry Oppenheimer, Joseph Oppenheimer, Jesse Woolf, Harry Simons, Louis Hamberger, Bert Cohen, Sachs, William Simons, Jacob Cohn and J. Hirschman.

The feature of the Cioflan on Tuesday afternoon was the entertaining lecture on "Modern Architecture," by Miss Beckwith.

The Entre Nous club met at the Collegiate Institute Monday evening and rendered an entertaining programme. Mrs. Shaward conducted the class in Roman history, the period between the years 264 and 133 B. C. Miss Edna Miller read a biographical sketch of Longfellow. Mr. John Franklin gave some interesting statistics on crime, comparing the data of various countries, and developing the facts that the number of suicides is in direct ratio to the enlightenment of a nation, and the number of murders in inverse ratio. He also proved that the accomplished crook, the brilliant, scintillating, finished article, is preeminently an American product.

Miss Rookledge has returned from her visit in Denver.

Miss Minnie Kiesel, of Ogden, has been the guest of Miss Thomas since Wednesday.

Mrs. Margaret Caine returned from the east Thursday.

Miss Van Horn has returned to her home in New York.

There will be a number of box parties at the theatre Tuesday evening, much interest being shown in the coming concert by the Mendelssohn quartette, of Denver, and the Orpheus club of this city.

GAL THREE SOCIETY.

The Tennyson class spent two hours very pleasantly and profitably in the discussion of "In Memoriam" Friday evening at the home of Dr. Uter.

As previously stated in the Herald invitations have been issued by Mrs. William Jennings and Mrs. Frank Jennings for a charity reception on Thursday from 5 to 10 p. m.

Miss Ora Harkness entertained the Friday evening card club last week, those present beside the club members being Mr. and Mrs. D. Sharp and Miss Sue Bacon.

Another fashionable wedding is talked of sub rosa.

A club is to be organized within a fortnight the object of which will be social enjoyment, but the amusements will be varied as some of the promoters of the card club likewise. Some of our leading society young ladies are interested in the proposed club.

A Shakespeare club has been organized which promises to be one of the most popular of the season. The first meeting was with the Misses Webber last Monday when it was decided to read "As You Like It." Miss Teasdale entertains the club tomorrow evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stephens celebrated the tenth anniversary of their wedding Tuesday evening, some twenty friends enjoying their hospitality.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Coffin entertained the Burlington Place club very pleasantly Thursday evening.

Miss Ella Dreuhl will give a party at her home, 268 South Second East street, on Thursday evening.

Miss Wright, of Denver, will visit Mr. and Mrs. John Tilton Donnellan.

Judge Tunnichiffe has arrived from Macomb, Ill., and after a sojourn of two weeks in this city will return to his home, accompanied by Mrs. Tunnichiffe and the Misses Tunnichiffe, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bacon for two months.

Miss Dot Keeney, of Pocatello was the guest of Messdames J. T. and F. D. Richards the early part of last week. Miss Keeney was on her way to Denver, where she was to act as the bridesmaid of Miss Miller.

Mrs. Norris is arranging for an entertainment to be given at the Mantou Wednesday evening, when she will read and Mrs. Woodrow, Mrs. Teasman, Mr. H. S. Krouse and Mr. Dwight Seymour will sing. Like most of the entertainments given now it is, and properly so, semi-social and semi-charitable.

The Misses Webber have issued invitations for a party next Wednesday evening in honor of Miss Glass, of Los Angeles, Cal.

Miss Glass, of Los Angeles, is the guest of Miss Ella Thomas.

Mrs. Morrison is expected home shortly before the holidays.

Dr. Ned Hewett returned last week from a visit of two months in the east.

Mrs. Winston, Mrs. Kellar and Miss Jennie Winston were at home on Thursday evening and very pleasantly entertained the friends who called, among the number being Dr. and Mrs. Niles, Dr. and Mrs. Vincent, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brown, and Mr. Charles Compton.

Miss Ella Thomas gave an elegant little luncheon Tuesday in honor of Miss Glass, of Los Angeles, the guests being Miss Clara Bailey, Miss Marie Roundy and Miss Margaret Park.

A dancing party will be given at St. Mark's school house by some of the young people tomorrow evening. Mrs. Smedley, Mrs. Gilmer, Mrs. Woodward, and Mrs. Williams will be the chaperones.

Miss Lucine Hoge was at home on Monday evening and pleasantly entertained the usual number of friends.

Miss Jennie Haight entertained a small party of friends last evening.

The Delta Phi society will give another ball on Wednesday, the 13th inst., in the art room of the University. The committee in charge are Messrs. F. M. Briggs, F. W. Reynolds, W. Lee Ellerbeck, Thomas Nystrom, H. L. Nelson, and J. M. Hooper.

Miss Ottilla Maaser, of Provo, visited friends in Salt Lake last week.

Invitations have been issued for a reception of the Alta club to be given in their club room on the 27th inst. The event will be appropriate as one of the final social functions of the present year.

John M. Zane lectures before the Delta Phi society of the Utah university next Monday night on the subject "Wendell Phillips." In addition to the lecture there will be a piano selection by Miss Kate Roney and a vocal solo by Miss Lucas.

Miss Maud Bowring gave a very pleasant "At Home" Friday evening. Dancing and card playing were the amusements of the evening. One of the principal features was "The Fishers Hompicks," by Miss Bee Wilkinson. At 11 o'clock dainty refreshments were served. Those present were: Misses Belle Weller, Lydia Weller, Ida Pitts, Hilma Peterson, Nellie Wallace, Annie Cartwright, Lottie Dinwoodey, Bee Wilkinson, Mary Smith, Ella Ensign, Ollie Patten, Hattie Wallace, and Lucy Dean; Messrs. Orrin Grow, John Hagman, Elijah Weller, Charley Dinwoodey, H. W. Bowring, Charles Solomon, Fred Rigby, Walter Patten, Richard Solomon, George Allen, Walter Wallace, Charley Hagus.

The guests at a pleasant, informal gathering at the home of Mrs. Joseph Hyde on Wednesday evening were Messdames Kimball, Solomon, Beasley, Wood, Gardner, Buckholt, Young, Misses Solomon, Hawley, Holmes, Oster, Harman, Brown, Willey, Gardner, Hyde, Messrs. Brown, Solomon.
